Work From Your Home.

Hi

My name is Rachel and I don't want to give you here a meaningless list of ways to work from your home and make money building your own small home based business. Or share with you the top list of work from home opportunities. I will tell you my story hoping you can pull from it the best way for you to work from home and make money.

Let me be honest very honest with you, I am working from home and running my own home based business for 5 years. And I am very happy I choose to go this way 5 years ago. Otherwise I may be still behind the coffee machine and still working 10 hours a day just to have a respectful life.

I still work hard, and about 8 hours a day each day, 7 days a week, but I work from home, on my own schedule and most of all I love doing what I am doing. Staying at home is also a huge advantage for me, not only because it alone can save me a lot of money but also being here at home for my two lovely kids and be with them for each new adventure and share them their life experience is worth the world for me.

Let me tell you how I started:

One day a customer came in to the coffee shop I worked at, he had a laptop when a laptop was a weird thing. He ordered coffee and sat down working on his laptop and drinking coffee a cup after the other for more than 4 hours, never looked around like there is no one around him, nothing could disturb him and he was very focused.

When he asked for the check, I had to ask him what was very interesting about his computer and what he was working at. It took him about 30 minutes to explain to me what he was doing and why.

He had a website and he was promoting his website, and he explained to me that this website is his business and the money that was earned from that website in a single day, was more than the money I was making in a full month. Basically in his 4 hours work he was making more money than I make in a full hard work month.

This 30 minutes conversation have change my life totally, I started immediately to learn how to build a website, and how to make money with that website, I cannot lie to you, it was a very hard task for me to learn the subject and do it correctly. To be honest I started with several topic, I have even tried to build an adult website. I was lost for more than 2 years trying to learn and at least doing one thing right.

I had no idea what my website will be about, how to design the website how to promote and most important how to make money with that website.

I was very determined to learn this business; it is my only chance for doing something with my life and make the change I always dreamed of, my search after solution and learning lead me to the www.arabian-affiliate.com website, and Just by going through some of the information written their and going through the opportunities listed their I found my ultimate solution; Exactly what I was searching for.

It's called Site Build It program, and I am sure you may have heard about it because it's now very popular online.

With Site Build It I was able to understand the process of niche affiliate marketing, and how it must be done perfectly to reach success the fastest way possible, I also learned that To succeed on this business I need to choose a topic that I love so my work online will be interesting to me at first and to my audience in the future. And how to make money writing about things I love and know about, even sharing how to make a tasty cup of coffee could be very profitable, or how to make a delicious cheese cake.
