I want to work from home!

Yesterday I have received a message from someone who is a member on one of my lists, and she was receiving e-mails from me about opportunities and ways to make money online.

Here is some of what she wrote:

“ I want to work from home, not only to have the opportunity to earn some extra income, but also maybe to someday be able to quite working for Starbuks, I have seen your network opportunities you are promoting and to be honest with you I did not liked any, Maybe the Myworldplus have a potential, but I cannot yet understand the way network marketing works.

Please if you really can help me out, and show me a way that I can start working on the internet.

After a long time of looking around on the internet, I am now sure that people are earning money online, but fortunately I am ending up spending more money than earning any

.....”

I want to thank her for her e-mail, I have answered her and I offered her to work with me one on one, we will soon get results and she will have better understanding about the process.

I am sure that you also have the same request, we all want to have at least an extra income working from home, but you need to understand two very important things:

1. Do you need money to make money?

The answer here is NO, you can make money online without any money invested Not even investing in a hosting or a domain name.

Here is a simple way to make some money online:

With blogger free blog, for example here is a free blogger template MMblogger template copy the code and go to your blogger account, blog layout- edit html then past the code there. Then go through the code and change the banners and ads to your own.

With some effort building back links and posting articles to your blog you can reach high Page Rank in your niche and start earn money from pay per click advertising you show on your blog like ad sense or with affiliate product related to your niche.

I really recommend going through some of the information on the Home Business Guide.

2. It will be money and time, money or time invested in order to make money online, you can invest time only and work it as hard as possible to make money online, or you can put some money to your business and start making money faster and some times easier. For example if we took the last example of the free blogger; we want to build back links to our free blog and promote it so we can increase the amount of traffic to that blog.

Go to Google and look for “make money online”, you will find that the first result is a free blogger blog, this guy can make good money just for being listed the number 1 in Google for that term. He don't have any text ads (like Google ad sense) but he is promoting some money making opportunities that bring him affiliate commission or and network marketing commission.

What you need in order to make the same success he did, ios posting some articles frequently and building back links to your blog. And here is a great way to have them both with minimum effort and small investment.

Join the Unique article wizard, use e-mail auto post for blogger, and sign up for receiving articles related to your category from the unique article wizard directly to your blog, this way you will get new posts to your blog all the time. Secondly you can post articles and distribute them to 4000 other blogs and article directories automatically and fast using the unique article wizard.

There is another free article marketing service called the FREE traffic system, you can use it to build back links, fast and free.

I know that I have posted this information in a fast way, not discussing it more with more details because it is a blog post. Howe
