Online Work from home opportunities

There are hundreds and maybe thousands of online work from home opportunities, starting from worthless data entry, online surveys (most are scams) to having a multimillion dollar online business.

When I started working from home, it was a part time testing business; I started to promote affiliate products with free social networks, free blogs and free press release. I started doing it and I was almost 100% certain that it will not work, and cannot make any money online, but I also put a limit to myself that I will not spend any money.

One press release that I posted start to drive a lot of traffic, it was in the first page of Google for a month and it reached a thousand reader in that month. This press release earned me $207 in affiliate commission. And one squidoo lense earned me $47 from one sale.

Even then I did not believe its true, only after I received the money everything changed and I know that it is possible to make money online working from home writing some articles. I started to work harder and harder, I started my own world press blog. I started to learn more about internet marketing, affiliate marketing and SEO. A few days back, I searched for the term "home business" and started to visit sites that were listed in the first 2 pages, one of those sites was called "Home Business Guide" and when I visited the home page of that website I was very disappointed at first, it was a bunch of links in categories, and I did not like the domain.

But after going through some pages, and links on the site it was amazing, there are hundreds of pages with very important information and resources. And they are the only who responded to my messages. You know every webmaster have an e-mail list to subscribe to, but it will only put you in an auto responder system of some promotion emails. But those guys really responded to my request of help.

Last month I quite my day job and started to work full time on the internet, it's because when you start to make money online, and see that it is very possible and doable, you will love it, love what you do, and honestly it is the only job I had and love doing it. You will lose any interests leaving the home.

There are two work from home opportunities I want to talk about.

1. Niche affiliate marketing, focus on a niche, very specific target niche, find a good affiliate offer, and promote it. You can build your own website about this niche and recommend some affiliate offers in that website. You can read more about niche affiliate marketing in this page Niche Affiliate Business .
2. The second one is network marketing, people love to call it MLM but it's very different than ordinary MLM programs. Some network marketing opportunities can build you a passive residual income that could exceed the $10,000 monthly. You just need to learn how to promote network opportunity in the best effective way. Here is a list of the top network marketing opportunities online today.

There are online work from home opportunities that can make you more money than your day job, and it require less hard work, less time and you will love it. However it is not for everyone, we still need some hard working people to make our life easier.

“Life isn’t fare” is a term that I was using all the time, but now I know that I was the problem, life is great when you can solve problems
